The poem you are reading
Is about a certain word,
With so many different meanings,
It's simply quite absurd

This word can mean to go
But never can mean going,
This word can mean a show,
But never someone showing

You use this word when having fun
And explaining to your dad,
That the floor is lava; the sofa's safe
But the carpet, well, that's bad

This word is used for games
Board, video and others,
But this word is best when laughing too
With your sisters and your brothers

This word comes before 'ground'
As well as 'time' and 'date',
But nothing is as scary as
When you use [this word] 'with fate'

This word can rhyme with day,
Or May
Or say
Or clay,
And you might not know this word by now,
But trust me, that's okay.

But some of you do know it,
And for that, well done to you,
But by the end of this poem,
Everyone will know it too

This word is used for music
Whether practicing or performing

And if used well for inmates,
It has criminals reforming!

And though this word is just
One word used in a day,
I think we all should try it more,
Relax, have fun and PLAY
